INDEX TO VOLUME CXV.

Abbot, S. L. Urethran in chorea, 109; acute rheumatic carditis treated with salicylate of sodium, 326, 328.

Abbott, S. W. Wolpert's air-tester, 131.

Abdominal Surgery. Abdominal cellulitis, Mead, J. A., 199; laparotomy for gun-shot wounds of the intestines, Bull, W. T., 266; a case of abdominal section for chronic suppurative peritonitis, Reeve, J. C., 329; discussion on shot wounds of the intestines, Tremaine, W., 527; what are the diagnostic signs of the involvement of the intestines in shot wounds of the abdomen? Bryant, J. D., 528; what should be the first measures of treatment in shot wounds of the abdomen involving the intestines? Moore, E. M., Jr., 528; under what circumstances and how soon after the injury should laparotomy be resorted to in cases of shot wounds of the intestines, and when is the operation contra-indicated? Bull, W. T., 528; what are the essential features of the technique of laparotomy, including the management of the wounded intestine? Hamilton, J. B., 529; what are the best methods of after-treatment in cases of shot wounds requiring laparotomy and suture of the intestines? Nancrede, 529; laparotomy as a diagnostic resource, Thomas, T. G., 549; a case of gastrotomy: digital exploration of œsophagus and removal of a plate of teeth: recovery, Richardson, M. H., 567, 579.

Adams, I. H. Typhoid fever, 17.

Adams, J. F. A. A case of pneumothorax, 397.

Adams, Z. B. An epidemic of malaria in Eastern Massachusetts, 173, 197.

Age. The reparative power of the aged, 191.

Air-tester. Wolpert's air-tester, Abbot, S. W., 131.

Allen, C. A. Medical common-sense, 16.

Althaus, J. Some phases of cerebral syphilis, 378; on tetany and tetanilla, 389, 417; some points in the pathology and treatment of paraplegia dependent on Pott's disease, 405.

Amenorrhœa. The use of permanganate of potash in amenorrhœa, Lyman, G. H., 61.

Amidon, R. W. A case of hæmatoma of the pancreas: death in three days, 594.

Anatomy. Bicuspid condition of the semi-lunar valves, and its relation to aortic valve disease, Osler, W., 32; recent progress in anatomy, Dwight, T., 205; exhibition of the medisected alinjected head of a murderer, Wilder, B. G., 210.

Andrews, J. A. Effects of the electric light upon the eye, 139; the frequent instillation of a two per cent. solution of nitrate of silver in purulent ophthalmia, 187.

Aneurism. Rupture of an aneurism of the thoracic aorta, Read, I. B., 552.

Anidrosis. Congenital anidrosis, Stedman, C. E., 61.

Appendix Vermiformis. Perforating inflammation of the vermiform appendix, with special reference to its early diagnosis and treatment, Fitz, R. H., 13.

Arsenic. Pseudo-tabes from arsenical poisoning, Dana, C. L., 187.

Athetosis, with remarks on its pathology, Hammond, G. M., 407.

Atkinson, I. E. Rubella or rötheln, 237; scarlet fever and scarlatinous eruptions following injuries and operations, 283.

Aubert. A danger from public baths, 266.

Auto-Intoxications, 433.

Ayer, J. B. Whooping-cough at the age of fifty-one: treatment by cresolene, 377; a case of chronic intestinal nephritis, 525; vaccination complicated by a trivial wound, 623.

Bacon, G. A paper on two cases of ear disease due to traumatism, 89.

Bacteria. Demonstration of bacterial cultures from a case of mycotic endocarditis in man, Bruen, E. T., 12; report on bacteriology, Ernst, H. C., 424.

Baelz, E. The physiology of the eye obliquity of the Japanese, 414.

Baker, W. H. Electrolysis in gynæcological surgery, 352; a new portable case for gynæcological instruments, 549.

Bald and toothless future, 415.

Barker, F. The influence of mental impressions on the fœtus, 331.

Baths. The danger of syncope in hot baths, 241.

Beach, H. H. A. Stone in the bladder: lithotomy, 452; stone in the bladder: litholapaxy, 452; tumor of the breast, 452.

Beri-Beri in Brazil, Lane, H. M., 293.

Beevor, C. E. and Horsley, V. Scientific advance in the treatment of tumors of the brain, 69.

Bibliography. American Gynæcological Society Transactions, 1885, 40; Baker, E. C., a guide to the examination of the nose, 381; Blandford, G. F., insanity and its treatment, 530; Buzzard, T., on some forms of paralysis from peripheral neuritis, of gouty, diphtheritic or other origin, 213; California. Ninth biennial report of the state board of health, 553; Dobell, H., on asthma; its nature and treatment, 41; Dujardin-Beaumetz, diseases of the stomach and intestines, 212; East, E., the private treatment of the insane as single patients, 553; Féré, C., traité elémentarie d'anatomie médicale on système nerveux, 142; Fothergill, J. M., a manual of dietetics, 213; Gowers, W. R., diagnosis of diseases of the brain and of the spinal cord, 381; Granger, W. D., how to care for the insane, 407; Hammond, W. A., a treatise on diseases of the nervous system, 382; Harvard University, publications of Harvard University and its officers, 1880-1885, 92; Heath, C., dictionary of practical surgery by various British hospital surgeons, 381; Hill, B., the students' manual of venereal diseases, 65; Index catalogue, volume seven, 288; Insane, handbook for the instruction of attendants on the insane, 407; Kircher, J., puerperal convalescence and the diseases of the puerperal period, 456; Lauder-Brunton, T., disorders of digestion; their consequences and treatment, 212; Landis, H. G., the management of labor and the lying-in period: a guide for the young practitioner, 214; Loring, E. G., text-book of ophthalmoscopy, 64; Lydston, G. F., lectures on syphilis, 65; Maclajan, T. J., rheumatism; its nature, its pathology and its successful treatment, 381; Maryland, sixth biennial report of the state board of health, 580; Massachusetts sixth health supplement, 408; Massachusetts registration report, forty-fourth, 382; Morrow, P. A., venereal memoranda, 65; Murrell, W., massage as a mode of treatment, 600; Nall, S., aid to obstetrics, 142; Obstetrical Society of London, Transactions, 1885, 17; Owen, E., the surgical diseases of children, 41; Parker, W. N., elements of the comparative anatomy of the vertebrates, 480; Pennsylvania, first annual report of the state board of health and vital statistics, 553; Phillips, C. D., materia medica and therapeutics, 213; Piffard, H. G., cutaneous memoranda, 65; Roberts, W., lectures on dietetics and dyspepsia, delivered at the Owens College School of Medicine, 212; Sharkey, S. J., spasm in chronic nerve disease, 480; Sutton, J. B., an introduction to general pathology, 504; Trevis, F., a manual of surgery, 285; Warren, J. C., on the healing of arteries after ligature in man and animals, 600.

Bidwell, W. D. Toxic effect from permanganate of potassium, 147; placenta prævia partialis, 376; regulation of the practice of medicine, 558.

Bigelow, J. S. Fractures of the lower end of the humerus, 588.

Biliousness, 116.

Billings, J. S. Medicine in the United States and its relations to co-operative investigation, 121; scientific men and their duties, 561, 585.

Biography. Anderson, J., 361: Bennett, J. L., 292; Bert, P., 485; Brown, F. D., 488; Burke, J., 265; Cleary, T. F., 508; Codman, W. W., 632; Curly, A. H., 244; Dudley, W. H., 361; Durgin, F. A., 464; Edes, R. T., 290; Emerson, J. S., 316; Fisk, S. M., 484; Gamgee, J. S. 361, 364; Gray, J. P., 582; Hamilton, F. H., 170, 196, 338, 429; Hammond, J. S., 536; Hoadley, J. C., 416; Homans, C. D., 268, 292, 385, 460; Holmes, O. W., 217; Hill, H. H., 70; Jackson, W. W., 289; McBride, T. A., 265; Miner, J. F., 460; Moxon, 145; Parks, L., 512, 533; Purdy, B. S., 93; Scully, F. P., 488; Seavey, C., 148; Slack, H., 582; Wakefield, A. T., 416, 437; Wakley, J. G., 288; White, L. H., 312; Woodbury, F. C., 560; Yates, E. S., 120.

Bishop, P. E. A method of treating placenta prævia, some points of which are not to be found in the standard notes on midwifery, 225.

Bishop, W. I. Mind-reading and muscle-reading, 532.

Blache. Dilatation of the stomach in children, 290.

Black-list. A medical black-list, Dixwell, J., 511.

Blackwood. An unusual case of extra-uterine pregnancy, 46.

Blaisdell, F. Report on obstetrics, 15.

Blake, J. G. Albuminuric retinitis, 49, 60.

Blind. The offspring of the blind, Snell, S., 218.

Blodgett, A. N. Dislocation of the ribs, 486.

Boardman, W. E. The management of cases of rigidity of the os uteri in labor, 149; two cases of labor complicated with fibroid tumors, with remarks, 591, 594.

Bowditch, H. I. Lithograph of Vesalius: Holzeming's pharmacopœia: painting by Watteau, 29.

Bradbury, O. N. Severed digits, 583.

Bradford, E. H. The treatment of lateral curvature, 221.

Bradford, E. H. and Lovett, R. W. Report on progress in orthopedic surgery, 373, 398.

Brain. Brain surgery again, 530.

Breast. Tumor of the breast, Beach, H. H. A., 452; axillary lymphphangitis with lymphorrhagia? or supernumerary mamma with lacteal secretion, Johnson, A. H., 547.

Brooklyn Bridge. The successful leap from Brooklyn Bridge, 92.

Bronson, E. B. Erythanthema syphiliticum, 236.

Brown, J. F. Theory and practice of medicine, 16.

Bruen, E. T. Notes on some cases of diaphragmatic pleurisy, 1; demonstration of bacterial cultures from a case of mycotic endocarditis in man and of specimens showing the experimental production of the disease in rabbits, 12.

Brune, T. B. A reducing substance in urine resembling glucose, 621.

Bryant, J. D. What are the diagnostic signs of the involvement of the intestines in shot wounds of the abdomen? 528.

Buck, A. H. Painless and only slightly painful ulceration of the membrana tympani probably of a tubercular nature, 86; certain technical details relating to operations on the mastoid process, 87.

Buckingham, E. M. Possible air-embolism after labor, with recovery, 282.
Buckley, J. M. Faith healing and kindred phenomena, 311.
Bull, C. S. An analysis of one hundred cases of exudative retinitis occurring in the course of Bright's disease, 90.
Bull, W. T. Laparotomy for gunshot wounds of intestines, 266; under what circumstances and how soon after the injury should laparotomy be resorted to in cases of shot wounds of the intestines, and when is the operation contra-indicated? 528.
Burnett, C. H. Two cases of chronic purulent inflammation of the attic of the tympanum with perforation of the membrana flaccida treated with peroxide of hydrogen, 88.
Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Report on progress in surgery, 177, 227.
Byrne, J. The treatment of procidentia uteri by galvano-cautery, 351.
Bystroff, N. J. Headache in school children, 70.
Cabot, A. T. Care of supra-pubic lithotomy, 455; notes on the treatment of stone in the bladder, 518, 526, 544.
Calculi: their alleged "spontaneous" fracture, 558.
Calculus. Renal calculus, its diagnosis and treatment, Tyson, J., 365; notes on the treatment of stone in the bladder, Cabot, A. T., 518, 526, 544; spontaneous fracture of stone in the bladder, Watson, F. S., 524, 525.
Canfield, H. Health resorts at the South, with remarks on the general subject of climatology, 622.
Carpenter, A. Sewage farming in England, 21.
Carroll, A. L. Lepto-meningitis infantum, 428.
Cellulitis, abdominal, Mead, J. A., 199.
Cerebral Localizations, 603.
Chadwick, J. R. Intestinal resection for malignant stricture of the large intestine, 84; a case of extra-uterine fœtation with presentation of the specimen, 159; the blue discoloration of the vaginal entrance as a diagnostic sign of pregnancy, 355.
Channing, W. Report of a case of epilepsy of forty-five years' duration, with autopsy, 4.
Chapin, C. V. Disinfection and disinfectants, 623.
Charity. Abuse of medical charity: a remedy applied in 3,000 cases of out-door patients: results, Doggett, F. F., 105, 132.
Charleston. The medical college and the Roper Hospital at Charleston, S. C., 314.
Cheever, D. W. A case of chronic obstruction from congenital malformation of the bowels: tentative operation: death, 84; exostosis of facial bones, 596.
Cheltsoff. The effect of bitters on digestion, 21.
Chemistry. Report on medical chemistry, Hills, W. B., 81.
Children. Lowell Island Sanatorium for children, 68; headache in school children, 68; dilatation of the stomach in children, Bache, 290; the etiology and treatment of summer diarrhœa of infants, Haven, H. C., 180; urinary incontinence of children treated by anodynes per rectum, Williams, E. T., 157; cases in the service of Dr. A. T. Cabot, 298; cerebral infantile paralysis, 310; lepto-meningitis infantum, Carroll, A. L., 428; report on diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 471.
China. Medical Education in China, 19.
Chinese Medicine, 242.
Chloroform. Death from chloroform, 146.
Cholera. The Pope's Cholera Hospital in Rome, 414.
Chorea. Urethran in chorea, Abbot, S. L., 109; the treatment of chorea by cimicifuga, 458; chorea cured by gymnastic exercises during hypnotism, Pari, R., 484.
Chromium. A not well-recognized source of domestic poisoning, with cases, Harrington, C., 135.
Circulatory System. Demonstration of bacterial cultures from a case of mycotic endocarditis in man, Bruen, E. T., 12; the character of inorganic cardiac murmurs, Sawyer, J., 22; a case of "ulcerative endocarditis," Wolcott, G., 25, 30; bicuspid condition of the semi-lunar valves, and its relations to aortic valve disease, Osler, W., 32; report on progress in thoracic disease, Shattuck, F. C., 155; the relations of the inferior thyroid artery and the recurrent laryngeal nerve, Dwight, T., 173; ulcerative endocarditis, Janeway, E. G., 233; possible air-embolism after labor, with recovery, Buckingham, E. M., 282; acute rheumatic carditis treated with salicylate of sodium, Abbot, S. L., 326, 328; pancreatic hæmorrhage and sudden death, Draper, F. W., 393; recent methods of treating hæmorrhoids, 457; two cases of malignant or ulcerative endocarditis, Musser, J. H., 489; the movements of the heart and intestines illustrated by photography, Thompson, W. G., 502; the discovery of the circulation of the blood and its consequences, 505; rupture of an aneurism of the thoracic aorta, Read, I. B., 552; a case of malignant endocarditis, Shattuck, F. C., 574, 577; a case of hæmatoma of the pancreas: death in three days, Amidon, R. W., 594.
Clark, G. A. The medico-legal aspects of suicide in life insurance, 337.
Clinician versus patient, 357.
Climate. Health resorts at the South, with remarks on the general subject of climatology, Canfield, H., 622.
Coggin, D. Carded vs. absorbent cotton, 510.
Collective Investigation. Committee for collective investigation, International Congress, 607.
Color Blindness. The medico-legal cases, Jeffries, B. J., 137; color blindness among applicants for the navy, Jeffries, B. J., 558.
Co-operative Investigation. Medicine in the United States and its relations to co-operative investigation. Billings, J. S., 121; medicine in the United States and co-operative investigation, 143.
Copeland, W. P. An anodyne for use in vesical irritation, 509.
Corea. Syphilis in Corea, 169.
Corning, J. L. Spinal irritation, its symptoms, pathology and treatment, 541.
Cotton. Carded vs. absorbent cotton, Coggin, D., 510.
Councilman, W. T. Certain elements in the blood of malarial fever, 12.
Crosby, G. A. The coming physician, 15.
Currier, D. M. School hygiene, 15.
Cushing, E. W. Fibroid tumor, 209; cases of perforation of the appendix cœci of intestinal obstruction, 575, 578; ovarian tumors, 595.
Cushing, H. W. Phthisis: tubercular synovitis and caries of the wrist: excision with recovery from local condition, 598.
Cutaneous System. Erythema syphiliticum, Bronson, E. B., 236; rubella or rötheln, Atkinson, I. E., 237; report of a case of lymphadenoma (mycosis fungoide) and autopsy, Fox, G. H., 237; a note relative to the bullous eruptions occurring after the ingestion of iodine compounds, Hyde, J. N., 237; precocious gummata, Taylor, R. W., 238; clinical observations regarding the value of resorcin, icthyol and lanolin in cutaneous diseases, Stelwagon, H. W., 260; trophoneurosis of the skin caused by injury of the median nerve, Tilden, G. H., 260; native plants injurious to the skin, White, J. C., 261; chondroma of the upper lip, Robinson, A. R., 261; keratosis follicularis, associated with fissuring of the tongue and leukoplakia buccalis, Morrow, P. A., 261; a clinical study of scleroderma, Graham, J. E., 261; carcinoma cutis, Denslow Le, G. N., 262; clinical notes on scabies, Greenough, F. B., 269; scarlet fever and scarlatinous eruption following injuries and operations, Atkinson, I. E., 283; remarks and queries on and as to the relative frequency of moles and their pathological changes on the head and face, Sherwell, S., 284; notes of a case of exfoliative dermatitis (pityriasis rubra?) with bullous lesions, Hardaway, W. A., 284; a case of probable tuberculosis of the skin, Tilden, G. H., 285; a few additional notes on psoriasis, Greenough, F. B., 322; report on the progress of dermatology, Tilden, G. H., 400; scarlatina sine exanthema, 414; on the exact measurement of the electric current and other practical points in the destruction of hair by electrolysis, Prince, M., 420.
Cutler, E. G. Iodoform poisoning, 73, 101, 110.
Dana, C. L. Some certainties in the therapeutics of epilepsy, 22; pseudo-tabes from arsenical poisoning, 187.
Davenport, B. F. Vanilla poisoning, 110; report of progress relating to food and drugs, 546.
Davenport, F. H. Report of progress in gynæcology, 59; physical and chemical qualities of ordinary cow's milk, 180.
Davis, H. G. Intra-capsular fracture, 314; a cure for neuralgia, 486.
Dead. Toilers among the dead, 146.
Debove. Hysterical apoplexy, 461.
Delafield, F. Pulmonary emphysema, 474.
DeLoffre, A. A. More severed digits, 607.
Demons. Resection of lung and removal of a kidney, 413.
Dennett, W. S. A new test-type, 113.
Dennis, F. S. Some points of special interest in the treatment of compound fractures, including a report of over five hundred consecutive cases, 430.
Denslow, Le G. N. Carcinoma cutis, 262.
Derby, H. The possible retardation of retinitis pigmentosa in the young, 113.
Diabetes. On diet in diabetes, Dujardin-Beaumetz, 465.
Diet in fevers, 604.
Digestive System. Perforating inflammation of the vermiform appendix, with special reference to its early diagnosis and treatment, Fitz, R. H., 113; modern views as to functions of the liver, 18, 42; the effect of bitters on digestion, Cheltsoff, 21; foreign bodies in the alimentary canal, Gouley, J. W. S., 36; a case of stricture of the ileum: laparotomy, Gay, G. W., 77, 84; operations for the cure of intestinal obstruction, Marcy, H. O., 79, 84; closure of artificial anus by intestinal suture, Porter, C. B., 80, 84; a case of chronic obstruction from congenital malformation of the bowels: tentative operation: death, Cheever, D. W., 84; intestinal resection for malignant stricture of the large intestine, Chadwick, J. R., 84; biliousness, 115; the etiology and treatment of summer diarrhœa of children, Haven, H. C., 180; laparotomy for gunshot wounds of the intestines, Bull, W. T., 266; dilatation of the stomach in children, 290; diaphragmatic hernia, Farraresi, 336; pancreatic hæmorrhage and sudden death, Draper, F. W., 393; follicular tonsillitis, Langmaid, S. W., 455; recent methods of treating hæmorrhoids, 457; perityphlitic abscess discharging spontaneously at the umbilicus, Parker, W. T., 485; the movements of the heart and intestines illustrated by photography, Thompson, W. G., 502; two operations for intestinal obstruction, Wylie, W. G., 503; a simple and ready method of inflating the intestine, Homans, J., 510; discussion on shot wounds of the intestines, Tremaine, W., 527; what are the diagnostic signs of the involvement of the intestines in shot wounds of the abdomen? Bryant, J. D., 528; what should be the first measures of treatment in shot wounds of the abdomen involving the intestines, Moore, E. M., Jr., 528; under what circumstances and how soon after the injury should laparotomy be resorted to in cases of shot wounds of the intestines, and when is the operation contra-indicated? Bull, W. T., 528; what are the essential features of the technique of laparotomy, including the management of the wounded intestine? Hamilton, J. B., 529; what are the best methods of after-treatment in cases of shot wounds requiring laparotomy and suture of the intestines? Nancrede, 529; the cause of circular gastric ulcer, Silbermann, 534; blowing up the colon or the operator, 535; perforation of the intestine in a case of typhoid fever, Janeway, E. G., 552; a case of gastrotomy: digital exploration of œsophagus and removal of plate of teeth: recovery, Richardson, M. H., 567, 579; cases of perforation of the appendix cœci and of intestinal obstruction, Cushing, E. W., 575, 578; a case of hæmatoma of the pancreas: death in three days, Amidon, R. W., 594; a case of intestinal obstruction in an infant caused by the ingestion of wool, White, W. R., 622.
Diphtheria. Communications from the diphtheria wards of the Charité, Henoch, 21; cases of tracheotomy in diphtheritic croup, Tupper, A. M., 53; a case of puerperal diphtheria, Forster, E. J., 351.
Disinfection. Disinfection and disinfectants, Chapin, C. V., 623.
Dislocations. Backward dislocation of the fingers upon the metacarpus, Otis, E. O., 202, 207; unique case of dislocation of the ribs, Fifield, W. C. B., 453; dislocation of the ribs, Blodgett, A. N., 486; outward dislocation of the patella, Gay, G. W., 502.
Dispensary. Annual report of the Boston Dispensary, 385.
Dixwell, J. A medical black-list, 511.
Doctor as patient, 91.
Doe, O. W. A case of Paris-green poisoning, 301.
Doggett, F. F. Abuse of medical charity: a remedy applied in 3,000 cases of out-door patients: results, 105, 132.
Draper, F. W. Pancreatic hæmorrhage and sudden death, 393; extraordinary cardiac excitement before a first menstruation, 547.

Drilling. Effects of military drill on boys, Sargent, D. A., 245; military drill and gymnastic training in physical culture, Hartwell, E. M., 249; discussion on military drilling, 258.
Driver, S. W. Obstetric gleanings: or expedients and mistakes, 208.
Dujardin-Beaumetz. On complete aliments and on the milk diet, 97; on diet in diabetes, 465; on diet in albuminuria, 513.
"Dunbar" case, Paddock, F. K., 49; the Dunbar case: was it a murder or was it a suicide? Fish, D. B. N., 272.
Dwight, T. The relations of the inferior thyroid artery and the recurrent laryngeal nerve, 173; recent progress in anatomy, 205.
Ear. Recent progress in otology, Green, J. Orne, 9; acute and chronic purulent inflammation of the middle ear tract and their complications, Sexton, S., 85; a new operation for the radical cure of chronic purulent inflammation of the middle ear tract, Sexton, S., 85; painless and only slightly painful ulceration of the membrana tympani, probably of a peculiar nature, Buck, A. H., 86; certain technical details relating to operations on the mastoid process, Buck, A. H., 87; fatal termination of a case of sclerosing mastoiditis after chiseling of the bone, Knapp, H., 88; a case of abscess of the mastoid cells where the chief indication for operation was elevation of temperature, Pomeroy, O. D., 88; two cases of chronic purulent inflammation of the attic of the tympanum with perforation of the membrana flaccida treated with peroxide of hydrogen, Burnett, C. H., 88; in the physiology of hearing is there an overlapping of each auditory field the same as in binocular vision, Little, W. S., 88; a paper on two cases of ear disease due to traumatism, Bacon, G., 89; abscess of the brain from suppurative otitis, Van Fleet, F., 431; a new ear-speculum, Spear, E. D., 594.
Edes, R. T. Farewell dinner to Dr. R. T. Edes, 290.
Editorials. Modern views as to functions of the liver, 18, 42; medical education in China, 19; is medicine a progressive science? 43; the diagnosis of infectious diseases, 66; glycogenesis and glycosuria, 66; an island sanatorium for children, 66; the doctor as patient, 91; a list of the publications of Harvard University and its officers with the chief publications of the University, 1880-1885, 92; the successful leap from the Brooklyn Bridge, 92; scarlatina and milk, 115; biliousness, 116; poisoning by iodoform, 118; medicine in the United States and co-operative investigation, 143; leprosy in the Hawaiian Islands, 144; lithæmia, 167; syphilis in Corea, 169; the reparative power of the aged, 191; functions of the thyroid glands, 192; the Somerville poisoning sensation, 192; the State Board of Health to investigate rags as contagion carriers, 214; the hygiene of hot weather, 214; the heat centre, 215; Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, 217; the address of Mr. Erichsen at the British Medical Association, 239; State inspection of milk, 240; physical training of American youth, 262; the physiological effects of fear, 263; the overcharge for patent medicines, 264; recent views on "railway spine," 286; the index catalogue, volume seven, 288; cerebral infantile paralysis, 310; faith healing and kindred phenomena, 311; the poisoning of a family by "rough on rats," 312; the formation of new tissue from aseptic blood clots, 333; a medical view of the temperance question, 333; clinician versus patient, 357; cysts of the testicle and epididymis, 358; combined sclerosis, 359; the forty-fourth Massachusetts registration report, 382; tuberculosis of the thyroid gland, 383; perforating inflammation of the vermiform appendix, 409; medical sects and clinical instruction in public hospitals, 411; the serpent man, 412; auto-intoxications, 433; hypnotism as a phase of the mind-cure, 434; death by a druggist's error, 436; Thomsen's disease, 457; recent methods of treating hæmorrhoids, 457; the treatment of chorea by cimicifuga, 458; the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Harvard College, 459; medical education in the United States, 481; sandal-wood oil as an anti-blenorrhagic, 482; the discovery of the circulation of the blood, and its consequences, 505; the surgery of the pancreas, 506; Pasteur's new communication on rabies, 507; brain surgery again, 530; are all venereal patients liars? 531; mind-reading and muscle-reading, 532; researches on snake poison, 554; on the treatment of retro-deviations of the uterus, 555; the gastronomic value of odors, 556; the treatment of fractures of the lower end of the humerus, 602; cerebral localization, 603; diet in fevers, 604; increase of insane and paupers in New York, 605; annus medicus, MDCCCLXXXVI, 625.
Education. Medical education in China, 19; researches on snake poison, 554; the best equipment for medical study, Gerrish, F. H., 609.
Elliot, J. W. Tubo-ovarian cyst; hæmorrhage into the tube: operation, 161; three cases of suppurating ovarian tumor treated by drainage, 441, 452; stone in a female bladder, 452; new aseptic sponges, 502.
Embolism. Possible embolism after labor, with recovery, Buckingham, E. M., 282.
Emmet, T. A. Pelvic inflammation: cellulitis versus peritonitis, 308.
Endocarditis. A case of ulcerative endocarditis, Wolcott, G., 25, 30; a case of malignant endocarditis, Shattuck, F. C., 574, 577.
Englemann, G. J. Electricity in gynæcological practice, 352.
Epilepsy. Report of a case of epilepsy of forty-five years' duration, with autopsy, Channing, W., 4; some certainties in the therapeutics of epilepsy, Dana, C. L., 22; loss of weight in epilepsy, Hallager, F., 509.
Ergot after labor, Goodman, J., 330.
Erichsen. The address of Mr. Erichsen at the British Medical Association, 239.
Ernst, H. C. Report on bacteriology, 424.
Expert Testimony as given in the courts at present, Holt, A. F., 493, 515.
Extra-Uterine Fœtation. A case of extra-uterine fœtation, Chadwick, J. R., 159.
Extra-Uterine Pregnancy. A case of extra-uterine pregnancy, Kemp, E. A., 28; extra-uterine fœtation, with illustrative case, Lusk, W. T., 34; an unusual case of extra-uterine pregnancy, Blackwood, 46.
Eye. A clinical report of nine cases of hemianopsia, Seguin, E. C., 33; albuminuric retinitis, Blake, J. G., 49, 69; pyogenic micro-organisms with demonstrations and experiments, Knapp, H., 89; an analysis of one hundred cases of exudative retinitis occurring in the course of Bright's disease, Bull, C. S., 90; recent progress in ophthalmology, Wadsworth, O. F. and Standish, M., 106; thrombosis and peri-vasculitis of the retinal vessels, Harlan, G. C., 112; a new test-type, Dennett, W. S., 113; the possible retardation of retinitis pigmentosa in the young, Derby, H., 113; the equivalence of cylindrical and sphero-cylindrical lenses, Jackson, E., 114; the combination of cylinder lenses, Hay, G., 114; two hundred and sixty-three cases of cataract extraction with particular reference to the after-treatment, Strawbridge, G., 114; cataract extraction without iridectomy, Knapp, H., 137; report of fifty cases of cataract extraction, Webster, D., 137; death of a patient on the fifth day after the extraction of a hard cataract, Noyes, H. D., 137; the medico-legal cases, Jeffries, B. J., 139; effect of the electric light upon the eye, Andrews, J. A., 139; a method of overcoming diplopia when prisms are not fully effective, Little, W. S., 139; two epidemics of molluscum contagiosum, Mittendorf, W. F., 140; melano-sarcoma of the conjunctiva and cornea, Mittendorf, 161; the use of hot water in some of the corneal and conjunctival inflammations, Fryer, B. E., 162; asthenopia and the changes in refraction in adult eyes, Norris, W. F., 162; the amblyopia of squinting eyes, Thobald, S., 184; two cases of severe traumatism of eye with partial dislocation of the crystalline lens, Randall, B. A., 185; Badal's operation: laceration of the infra-trochlear nerve for the relief of glaucoma, etc., with cases, Prout, J. S., 185; advancement of Tenon's capsule in strabismus, Knapp, H., 186; a case of tumor of the left occipital lobe, Gruening, E., 186; new formation in the vitreous of both eyes, Prout, J. S., 186; a case of retinitis albuminurica: induced premature labor, Risley, S. D., 187; the frequent instillation of a two per cent. solution of nitrate of silver in purulent ophthalmia, Andrew, J. A., 187; a hint to oculists from the almond-eyed Asiatic, Simmons, G. C., 338; the physiology of the eye obliquity of the Japanese, Baelz, E., 414; pharyngeal and laryngeal mystagmus, 461; report on progress in ophthalmology, Wadsworth, O. F., and Standish, M., 520; color blindness among applicants for the navy, Jeffries, B. J., 558.
Faith healing and kindred phenomena, 311.
Farraresi. Diaphragmatic hernia, 336.
Fear. The physiological effects of fear, 263.
Fehling. The influence of drugs on nurslings, when administered to their nurses, 242.
Fehling's Solution. Reduction of copper in Fehling's solution with chloral hydrate, Sherwin, O. W., 487.
Felons. How to abort a felon, Kelley, H. S., 386; Williams, E. T., 415; abortive treatment of felons, Fish, D. B. N., 463; abortion of felons, wrinkles, new and ol[illegible] 485.
Felt, M. H. Fashionable f[illegible] 17.
Fevers. Diet in fevers, 604.
Fifield, W. C. B. Unique case of dislocation of the ribs, 453; spontaneous œdema or ascites treated by prolonged drainage through fine canulæ, 624.
Finck, H. T. The gastronomic value of odors, 556.
Fingers. Cases of reunion of cut-off fingers, Ivanoff, S. D., 509; reunion of severed digits, Galloupe, C. W., 511; severed digits, Bradbury, O. N., 583; more severed digits, DeLoffre, A. A., 607.
Fish, D. B. N. The Dunbar tragedy: was it a murder or was it a suicide? 272, abortive treatment of felons, 463.
Fitz, R. H. Perforating inflammation of the vermiform appendix, with special reference to its early diagnosis and treatment, 13.
Food. On complete aliments and on the milk diet, Dujardin-Beaumetz, 97; scarlatina and milk, 115; operation of the acts relative to the adulteration of food and drugs in Massachusetts, 170; physical and clinical qualities of ordinary cows' milk, Davenport, B. F., 180; State inspection of milk, 240; milk supply of large cities and the improper mode in which it is conducted, Pooler, H. A., 426; on diet in albuminuria, Dujardin-Beaumetz, 513; the gastronomic value of odors, 556; diet in fevers, 604.
Formad, H. Cyanotic induration of the kidneys, 33.
Formad, H. F. Intra-cranial hæmorrhage: record and classification of one hundred and forty-three consecutive fatal cases observed in medico-legal practice and in private autopsies in the city of Philadelphia, 302.
Foster, E. J. A new nipple-shield, 61; a case of puerperal diphtheria, 351.
Fox, G. H. Report of a case of lymphadenoma (mycosis fungoide) and autopsy, 237.
Fracture, intracapsular, Davis, H. G., 314.
Fractures. Some points of special interest in the treatment of compound fractures, including a report of over five hundred consecutive cases, Dennis, F. S., 430; fractures of the lower end of the humerus, Bigelow, J. S., 588; compound comminuted fracture of the leg, Hayward, G. G., 597; the treatment of fractures of the lower end of the humerus, 602.
Fraenkel. On the treatment of retro-deviations of the uterus, 555.
French Academy's report vs. liquors and liquor saloons, 218.
Fryer, B. E. The use of hot water in some of the corneal and conjunctival inflammations, 162.
Galloupe, C. W. Reunion of severed digits, 511.
Galvin, G. W. Improved inhaler, 181.
Gastric Ulcer. The cause of circular gastric ulcer, Silbermann, 534.
Gastrotomy. A case of gastrotomy: digital exploration of œsophagus and removal of plate of teeth: recovery, Richardson, M. H., 567, 579.
Gavin, M. F. A case of supra-pubic lithotomy, 446.
Gay, G. W. A case of stricture of the ileum: laparotomy: stricture incised and the incision closed with the cœcum: death on the ninth day: autopsy, 77; impalement of the thigh, 502; outward dislocation of the patella, 502.
General Diseases. Spasm of the glottis in rickets, Whittaker, J. T., 11; certain elements found in the blood of malarial fever, Councilman, W. T., 12; typhoid fever, Adams, I. H., 17; communications from the diphtheria wards of the Charité, Henoch, 21; some certainties in the therapeutics of epilepsy. Dana, C. L., 22; the bacillus of typhoid fever, Sternberg, G. M., 32; the attitude of legal medicine versus hydrophobia, Spitzka, E. C., 36; scarlatina and milk, 115; leprosy in the Hawaiian Islands, 144; some affections of the nervous system associated with tuberculosis, Weber, L. G., 166; lithæmia, 167; syphilis in Corea, 169; malaria in Eastern Massachusetts, Adams, Z. B., 173, 197; certain points in the diagnosis of some of the infectious diseases, Janeway, E. G., 230; beri-beri in Brazil, Lane, H. M., 293; notes on syphilis of the nervous system, Putnam, J. J., 317; acute rheumatic carditis treated with salicylate of sodium, Abbot, S. L., 326; some phases of cerebral syphilis, Althaus, J., 378; tuberculosis of the thyroid gland, 383; on diet in diabetes, Dujardin-Beaumetz, 465; are all venereal patients liars? 531.

Generative System. Peri-uterine inflammation, Polk, W., 31; report of progress in gynæcology, Davenport, F. H., 59; the use of permanganate of potash in amenorrhœa, Lyman, G. H., 61; a discussion of the statistics of ovariotomy, Irish, J. C., 153, 159; tubo-ovarian cyst: hæmorrhage into the tube: operation, Elliot, J. W., 161; fibroid tumor, Cushing, E. W., 209; a danger from public baths, Aubert, 266; reflex nervous phenomena from injuries to the testicle, Loumeau, 290; the division of the cervix backward in some forms of anteflexion of the uterus with dysmenorrhœa and sterility, Wilson, H. P. C., 305; another modification of Emmet's operation, with a case in point, Sutton, B. S., 307; notes on the treatment of recent laceration of the cervix uteri, Wilson, E., 307; pelvic inflammation: cellulitis versus peritonitis, Emmet, T. A., 308; report on genito-urinary surgery, Post, A., 324; the treatment of procidentia uteri by galvano-cautery, Bryne, J., 351; electricity in gynæcological practice, Engelmann, G. J., 352; electrolysis in gynæcological surgery, Baker, W. H., 352; supra-vaginal hysterectomy, Sutton, R. S., 355; cysts of the testicle and epididymis, 358; three cases of suppurating ovarian cysts treated by drainage, Elliot, J. W., 441, 452; the male urethra, Newell, O. K., 443; fibro-myoma of the uterus, Homans, J., 501; spermatorrhœa, Richardson, M. H., 525; extraordinary cardiac excitement before a first menstruation, Draper, F. W., 547; on the treatment of retro-deviations of the uterus, 555; ovarian tumors, Cushing, E. W., 595; the treatment of prolapse of the uterus and vagina, especially in the aged, with illustrative cases, Green, C. M., 615, 624.

Gerrish, F. H. The best equipment for medical study, 609.

Gibney, V. P. Pseudo-hypertrophic paralysis, 163.

Glycogenesis. Glycogenesis and glycosuria, 66; Glycogenesis, Liebmann, G., 219, 242; about glycogenesis, reply to Dr. Liebmann, 242.

Goodman, J. Ergot after labor, 330.

Gouley, J. W. S. Foreign bodies in the alimentary canal, 36.

Graham, J. E. A clinical study of scleroderma, 261.

Gray, L. C. Lesion of both temporal lobes, causing almost absolute loss of memory of events, without word deafness, or deafness, 162.

Green, C. M. Report on obstetrics, 26; the treatment of prolapse of the uterus and vagina, especially in the aged, with illustrative cases, 615, 624.

Green, J. Orne. Recent progress in otology, 9.

Greenough, F. B. Clinical notes on scabies, 269; a few additional notes on psoriasis, 322.

Gruening, E. A case of tumor of the left occipital lobe, 186.

Gun-shot Wounds. Discussion on shot wounds of the intestines, Tremaine, W., 527; what are the diagnostic signs of the involvement of the intestines in shot wounds of the abdomen? Bryant, J. D., 528; what should be the first measurers of treatment in shot wounds of the abdomen involving the intestines? Moore, E. M., Jr., 528; under what circumstances and how soon after the injury should laparotomy be resorted to in cases of shot wounds of the intestines, and when is the operation contra-indicated? Bull, W. T., 528; what are the essential features of the technique of laparotomy, including the management of the wounded intestine? Hamilton, J. B., 529; what are the best methods of after-treatment in cases of shot wounds requiring laparotomy and suture of the intestines? Nancrede, 529.

Gynæcology. Report of progress in gynæcology, Davenport, F. H., 58.

Hæmatoma. A case of hæmatoma of the pancreas: death in three days, Amidon, R. W., 594.

Hæmorrhoids. Recent methods of treating hæmorrhoids, 457.

Hallager, F. Loss of weight in epilepsy, 509.

Hamilton, J. B. What are the essential features of the technique of laparotomy, including the management of the wounded intestine? 529.

Hammond, C. B. Report on surgery, 16.

Hammond, G. M. Athetosis, with remarks on its pathology, 407.

Hair. Destruction by electrolysis, Prince, M., 420.

Hardaway, W. A. Notes of a case of exfoliative dermatitis (pityriasis rubra?) with bullous lesions, 284.

Harlan, G. C. Thrombosis and peri-vasculitis of the retinal vessels, 112.

Harrington, C. A not well-recognized source of domestic poisoning, with cases, 135.

Harrington, F. B. Salt infusion in the treatment of hæmorrhage, 61.

Hartwell, E. M. Military drill and gymnastic training in physical culture, 249, 258.

Harvard University. The two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Harvard University, 450; some vital statistics of graduates of Harvard, 484.

Haven, H. C. The etiology and treatment of summer diarrhœa of infants, 180.

Hawaiian Islands. Leprosy in the Hawaiian Islands, 144.

Hay, G. The combination of cylinder lenses, 114.

Hayward, G. G. Compound comminuted fracture of the leg, 597.

Heat. The hygiene of hot weather, 215; the heat centre, 216.

Henoch. Communications from the diphtheria wards of the Charité, 21.

Hills, W. B. Report on medical chemistry, 81.

Hip. A case of unusual deformity of both hip joints, Monks, G. H., 468, 479.

Holbrook, H. C. Nerve weakness, 17.

Holmes. Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes: Phœbo ante alias dilectus, 217.

Holt, A. F. Medical expert testimony as given in the courts at present, 493, 515.

Holyoke, F. A simple apparatus for washing out the bladder, 425.

Homans, C. D., 460.

Homans, J. Fibro-myoma of the uterus, 501; a simple and ready method of inflating the intestine, 510.

Homœopathic treatment of moral insanity, 69.

Hosmer, A. Two cases of obstetric interest, 402, 404.

Hyde, J. N. A note relative to the bullous eruption occurring after the ingestion of iodine compounds, 237.

Hygiene, Health, and Boards of Health. School hygiene, Currier, D. M., 15; sewage farming in England, Carpenter, A., 21; the care and disposal of the dead, 46; order to customs officers in regard to importation of old rags, 119; report on water-supply, Shattuck, G. B., 181; the State Board of Health to investigate rags as contagion carriers, 214; the hygiene of hot weather, 215; the lay press and questions of public health, 336; inter-State notification in infectious and contagious diseases, 461; on the hygienic laws and sanitary conditions of ancient Rome, Lanciani, R., 537, 565.

Hydrophobia. The attitude of legal medicine toward hydrophobia, Spitzka, E. C., 36; hydrophobia and Pasteur: two opposing statements, 94; Pasteur's new communication on rabies, 507.

Ice Cream. Poisoning by ice cream, Vaughan, V. C., 218.

Infantile Paralysis, 310.

Infectious Diseases. The diagnosis of infectious diseases, 66; certain points in the diagnosis of some of the infectious diseases, Janeway, E. G., 230.

Inhaler. Improved inhaler, Galvin, G. W., 181.

Insanity. Great wits and madness, 436.

Instruments and Apparatus. A new nipple-shield, Forster, E. J., 61; improved inhaler, Galvin, G. W., 181; a new portable battery and some details of its application, Stabler, A., 404; a simple apparatus for washing out the bladder, Holyoke, F., 425; bladder evacuator, Otis, F. N., 501; new aseptic sponges, Elliot, J. W., 502; carded vs. absorbent cotton, Coggin, D., 510; a new portable case for gynæcological intruments, Baker, W. H., 549; a new ear-speculum, Spear, E. D., 594; spontaneous œdema or ascites treated by prolonged drainage through fine canulæ, Fifield, W. C. B., 624.

Iodoform poisoning, Cutler, E. G., 73, 101, 110, 118.

Irish, J. C. A discussion of the statistics of ovariotomy, 153, 159.

Ivanhoff, S. D. Cases of re-union of cut-off fingers, 509.

Jackson, E. The equivalence of cylindrical and sphero-cylindrical lenses, 114.

Janeway, E. G. Certain points in the diagnosis of some of the infectious diseases, 230; ulcerative endocarditis, 233; perforation of the intestine in a case of typhoid fever, 552.

Jeffries, B. J. The medico-legal cases, 139; color-blindness among applicants for the navy, 558.

Johnson, A. H. Axillary lymphangitis with lymphorrhagia? or supernumerary mamma with lacteal secretion, 547.

Jurisprudence. The attitude of legal medicine versus hydrophobia, Spitzka, E. C., 36; the "Dunbar" case, Paddock, F. K., 49; medico-legal case: Albino birth: is it white or black? Thorn, W. A., Jr., 94; the Dunbar case: was it a murder or was it a suicide? Fish, D. B. N., 272; intracranial hæmorrhage, Formad, H. F., 302; notes on the "Lawton murder," Taylor, W. H., 318; the medico-legal aspects of suicide in life insurance, Clark, J. A., 337; medical expert testimony as given in the courts at present, Holt, A. F., 493, 515.

Kelley, H. S., Jr. How to abort a felon, 386.

Kemp, E. A. A case of extra-uterine pregnancy, 28.

Kinloch, R. A. The medical college and the Roper Hospital at Charleston, S. C., 314.

Knapp, H. Fatal termination of a case of sclerosing mastoiditis after chiseling of the bone, 88; pyogenic micro-organisms with demonstrations and experiments, 89; cataract extraction without iridectomy, 137; advancement of Tenon's capsule in strabismus, 186.

Knapp, P. C. Recent progress in diseases of the nervous system, 253; a case of professional neurosis of co-ordination, or unusual origin, 577.

Krackowizer Prize, 502.

Lanciani, R. On the hygienic laws and sanitary conditions of ancient Rome, 537, 565.

Lane, H. M. Beri-beri in Brazil, 293.

Langmaid, S. W. Follicular tonsillitis, 455.

Laparotomy. A case of stricture of the ilium: laparotomy, Gay, G. W., 77, 84; laparotomy for gun-shot wounds of the intestines, Bull, W. T., 266; discussion on shot wounds of the intestines, Tremaine, W., 527; what are the diagnostic signs of the involvement of the intestines in shot wounds of the abdomen? Bryant, J. D., 528; what should be the first measures of treatment in shot wounds of the abdomen involving the intestines? Moore, E. M., Jr., 528; under what circumstances and how soon after the injury should laparotomy be resorted to in cases of shot wounds of the intestines, and when is the operation contra-indicated? Bull, W. T., 528; what are the essential features of the technique of laparotomy, including the management of the wounded intestine? Hamilton, J. B., 529; what are the best methods of after-treatment in cases of shot wounds requiring laparotomy and suture of the intestines? Nancrede, 529; laparotomy as a diagnostic resource, Thomas, T. G., 549.

"Lawton Murder," Taylor, W. H., 318.

Leale, C. A. Fahlberg's saccharine, 553.

Lee, C. C. The future influence of surgery and surgical resources upon obstetrics, 62.

Leprosy in the Hawaiian Islands, 144.

Liebmann, G. On glycogenesis, 219.

Life Insurance. The medico-legal aspects of suicide in life insurance, Clark, J. A., 337.

Lithæmia, 167.

Little, W. S. In the physiology of hearing is there an overlapping of each auditory field the same as in binocular vision? 88; a method of overcoming diplopia when prisms are not fully effective, 139.

Liver. Modern views as to functions of the liver, 18, 42; glycogenesis and glycosuria, 66; hypertrophic cirrhosis of the liver, Mason, A. L., 281.

Lloyd, J. H. Moral insanity: a plea for a more exact cerebral pathology, 211.

Louis, King of Bavaria: autopsy, 46.

Loumeau. Reflex nervous phenomena from injuries to the testicles, 290.

Lovett, R. W. The delayed removal of tracheotomy tubes with cases, 56.
Lowell Island Sanatorium for children, 68.
Lusk, W. T. Extra-uterine fœtation, with illustrative case, 34.
Lyman, G. H. The use of permanganate of potash in amenorrhœa, 61.
Lyman, H. M. Tetany, 12.
Mackenzie, M. Is medicine a progressive science? 43.
McNutt, S. J. Multiple tumors of the cerebrum, probably of specific origin, occurring in an infant, 164.
Maine. Letter from Maine: Dr. H. H. Hill: medical department of Bowdoin College: Maine Medical Association, 70.
Malaria. Malaria in Eastern Massachusetts, Adams, Z. B., 173, 197; oleum eucalypti in malarial affections, Musser, 385.
Mamma. Axillary lymphangitis with lymphorrhagia? or supernumerary mamma with lacteal secretion, Johnson, A. H., 547.
Marcy, H. O. Operations for the cure of intestinal obstruction, 79, 84.
Mason, A. L. Hypertrophic cirrhosis of the liver, 281.
Massey, G. B. The cause of electrotonus and the normal formula of polar reactions, 164.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. The effect of bitters on digestion, Cheltsoff, 21; the use of permanganate of potash in amenorrhœa, Lyman, G. H., 61; urethran in chorea, Abbot, S. L., 109; toxic effect from permanganate of potassium, Bidwell, W. D., 147; operation of the acts relative to the adulteration of food and drugs in Massachusetts, 170; salicylate of cocaine in asthma, Mosler, 193; overdose of hydrobromate of hyoscin, Webber, S. G., 207; a contra-indication of paraldehyde, Sommer, 241; report on therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 276, 296; acute rheumatic carditis treated with salicylate of sodium, Abbot, S. L., 326; ergot after labor, Goodman, J., 330; concerning some hypnotics, Webber, S. G., 350; the treatment of procidentia uteri by galvano-cautery, Byrne, J., 351; electricity in gynæcological practice, Engelmann, G. J., 352; electrolysis in gynæcological surgery, Baker, W. H., 352; whooping-cough at the age of fifty-one: treatment by cresolene, Ayer, J. B., 377; oleum eucalypti in malarial affections, Musser, 385; sandal-wood oil as an anti-blenorrhagic, 482; report of progress relating to food and drugs, Davenport, B. F., 546.
Maternal Impressions. The influence of maternal impressions on the fœtus, Barker, F., 331.
Mead, J. A. Abdominal cellulitis, 199.
Medicine in the United States and its relations to co-operative investigation, Billings, J. S., 121.
Menstruation. Extraordinary cardiac excitement before a first menstruation, Draper, F. W., 547.
Metcalfe, J. T. Professional letters of recommendation, 386.
Michael, W. The medical college and the Roper Hospital at Charleston, S. C., 314.
Microbes. Conditions affecting the growth of microbes in potable water, 337.
Military Drill. Effects of military drill on boys, Sargent, D. A., 245, 258; military drill and gymnastic training in physical culture, Hartwell, E. M., 249, 258.
Milk. Physical and chemical qualities of ordinary cow's milk, Davenport, B. F., 180; State inspection of milk, 240.
Milk-supply of large cities and the improper method in which it is conducted, Pooler, H. A., 426.
Mills, C. K. Address, American Neurological Association, 140.
Mind. Homœopathic treatment of moral insanity, 69; moral insanity: a plea for a more exact cerebral pathology, Lloyd, J. H., 211; increase of insane and paupers in New York, 605.
Mind-cure. Hypnotism as a phase of the mind-cure, 434.
Mind-reading. Mind-reading and muscle-reading, 532.
Minot, C. S. The actual as compared with the supposed structure of the placenta, 209.
Minot, F. Extensive phlebitis and pelvic abscess following abortion, 279, 282.
Mitchell, S. W. Researches on snake poison, 554.
Mittendorf, W. F. Two epidemics of molluscum convagiosum, 140.
Mittendorf. Melano-sarcoma of the conjunctiva and cornea, 161.
Monks, G. H. A case of unusual deformity of both hip-joints, 468, 479; on rupture of the tendon of the long head of the biceps brachii muscle, 496, 501.
Moore, E. M., Jr. What should be the first measures of treatment in shot wounds of the abdomen involving the intestines? 528.
Moral Insanity: a plea for a more exact cerebral pathology, Lloyd, J. H., 211.
Morrow, P. A. Keratosis follicularis associated with fissuring of the tongue and leukoplakia buccalis, 261.
Mosler. Salicylate of cocaine in asthma, 193.
Muscles. Thomsen's disease, 457.
Musser. Oleum eucalypti in malarial affections, 385.
Musser, J. H. Two cases of malignant or ulcerative endocarditis, 489.
Nancrede. What are the best methods of after-treatment in cases of shot wounds requiring laparotomy and suture of the intestines? 529.
Nephritis. A case of chronic interstitial nephritis. Ayer, J. B., 525.
Nervous System. Report of a case of epilepsy of forty-five years' duration, with autopsy, Channing, W., 4; tetany, Lyman, H. M., 12; nerve weakness, Holbrook, H. C., 17; a clinical report of nine cases of hemianopsia, Seguin, E. C., 33; scientific advance in the treatment of tumors of the brain, Beevor, C. E., and Horsley, V., 69; headache in school children, 70; urethran in chorea, Abbot, S. L., 109; lesion of both temporal lobes, causing almost absolute loss of memory of events, without word deafness, or deafness, Gray, L. C., 162; pseudo-hypertrophic paralysis, Gibney, V. P., 163; multiple tumors of the cerebrum, probably of specific origin, occurring in an infant, McNutt, S. J., 164; the cause of electrotonus and the normal formula of polar reactions, Massey, G. B., 164; report of the committee on electrical dosage, 165; notes on the brain, Wilder, B. G., 165; some affections of the nervous system associated with tuberculosis, Weber, L. G., 166; lithæmia, 167; the relations of the inferior thyroid artery and the recurrent laryngeal nerve, Dwight, T., 173; pseudo-tabes from arsenical poisoning, Dana, C. L., 187; the treatment of facial spasm, Sinkler, 188; intra-cerebral hæmorrhage in the young, Sachs, 188; auctioneer's cramp, Zenner, 189; exhibition of the medisected alinjected head of a murderer, Wilder, B. G., 210; moral insanity: a plea for a more exact cerebral pathology, Lloyd, J. H., 211; recent progress in diseases of the nervous system, Knapp, P. C., 253; reflex nervous phenomena from injuries to the testicle, Lumeau, 290; intracranial hæmorrhage, Formad, H. F., 302; cerebral infantile paralysis, 310; notes on syphilis of the nervous system, Putnam, J. J., 317, 328, 341: tenderness of the spine in health and disease, and the therapeutic effects of blistering over the fourth and fifth dorsal vertebræ, Prince, M., 347; combined sclerosis, 359; operations on nerves, Richardson, M. H., 368, 377; some phases of cerebral syphilis, Althaus, J., 378; on tetany and tetanilla, Althaus, J., 389, 417; some points in the pathology and treatment of paraplegia dependent on Pott's disease, Althaus, J., 405; athetosis with remarks on its pathology, Hammond, G. M., 406; lepto-meningitis infantum, Carroll, A. L., 428; abscess of the brain from suppurative otitis, Van Fleet, F., 431; the treatment of chorea by cimicifuga, 458; hysterical apoplexy, 461; chorea treated by gymnastic exercises during hypnotism, Pari, R., 484; a cure for neuralgia, Davis, H. G., 486; loss of weight in epilepsy, Hallager, F., 509; spinal irritation, its symptoms, pathology and treatment, Corning, J. L., 541; a case of professional neurosis of co-ordination, of unusual origin, Knapp, P. C., 577; cerebral localizations, 603.
Neuralgia. A cure for neuralgia, Davis, H. G., 486.
Newell, O. K. The male urethra, 443, 480.
New York Skin and Cancer Hospital, 558.
Nichols, A. H. Fatal poisoning by chloride of zinc applied to an epithelioma of the lip: with remarks, 443.
Nichols, J. T. G. Induced labor at the eighth month on account of pelvic deformity, 541.
Nipple-shield, Forster, E. J., 61.
Nibison, N. The reunion of severed digits, 386.
Northrup, W. P. Laryngeal diphtheria: intubation and pathological anatomy, 598.
Norris, W. F. Asthenopia and the changes in refraction in adult eyes, 162.
Noyes, H. D. Death of a patient on the fifth day after the extraction of a hard cataract, 137.
Obstetric gleanings: or expedients and mistakes, Driver, S. W., 208.
Odors. The gastronomic value of odors, 556.
Orthopraxy. A contribution to the etiology of Pott's disease, Sayre, L. H., 35; the treatment of lateral curvature. Bradford, E. H., 221; report on progress in orthopædic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Lovett, R. W., 373, 398.
Osler, W. Bicuspid condition of the semi-lunar valves, and its relation to aortic valve-disease, 32.
Otis, E. O. Backward dislocation of the fingers upon the metacarpus, 202, 207.
Otis, F. N. Bladder evacuator, 501.
Ovariotomy. A discussion of the statistics of ovariotomy, Irish, J. C., 153, 159.
Paddock, F. K. The "Dunbar" case, 49.
Palmer, S. E. A case of puerperal eclampsia, 349.
Pancreas. Pancreatic hæmorrhage and sudden death, Draper, F. W., 393; the surgery of the pancreas, 506.
Paraldehyde. A contra-indication of paraldehyde, Sommer, 241.
Pari, R. Chorea cured by gymnastic exercises during hypnotism, 484.
Paris-green. A case of Paris-green poisoning, Doe, O. W., 301.
Parrish, W. H. The high mortality of the recent cæsarean operations in the United States, with the report of a case, 356.
Pasteur's new communication on rabies, 507.
Patent Medicines. The overcharge for patent medicines, 264; endorsing proprietary medicines, "John Collins, of Podunk," 226.
Pathology. Recent progress in pathology and pathological anatomy, Whitney, W. F., 448, 498.
Physical Training. Effects of military drill on boys, Sargent, D. A., 245; military drill and gymnastic training in physical culture, Hartwell, E. M., 249; discussion on military drill, 258; physical training of American youth, 262.
Physiology. Modern views as to functions of the liver, 18; glycogenesis and glycosuria, 66; on glycogenesis, Liebmann, G., 219, 242; about glycogenesis: reply to Dr. Liebmann, 242; the physiological effects of fear, 263.
Placenta. The actual as compared with the supposed structure of the placenta, Minot, C. S., 209.
Placenta Prævia. A method of treating placenta prævia, some points of which are not to be found in the standard works on midwifery, Bishop, P. E., 225; placenta prævia partialis, Bidwell, W. D., 376.
Pleurisy. Notes on some cases of diaphragmatic pleurisy, Bruen, E. T., 1.
Poisons. Iodoform poisoning, Cutler, E. G., 73, 101, 110, 118; vanilla poisoning, Davenport, B. F., 110; a not well-recognized source of domestic poisoning, with cases, Harrington, C., 135; toxic effect from permanganate of potassium, Bidwell, W. D., 147; poisoning by ice cream, Vaughan, V. C., 218; pseudo-tabes from arsenical poisoning, Dana, C. L., 187; the use and abuse of tea, 194; overdose of hydrobromate of hyoscin, Webber, S. G., 207; a case of Paris-green poisoning, Doe, O. W., 301; the poisoning of a whole family by "rough on rats," 312; fatal poisoning by chloride of zinc applied to an epithelioma of the lip: with remarks, Nichols, A. H., 343.
Polk, W. Peri-uterine inflammation, 31.
Pomeroy, O. D. A case of abscess of the mastoid cells where the chief indication for operation was elevation of temperature, 88.
Pooler, H. A. The milk-supply of large cities and the improper method in which it is conducted, 426.
Porter, C. B. Closure of artificial anus by intestinal suture, 80, 84.
Post, A. Report on genito-urinary surgery, 224.
Pott's Disease. A contribution to the etiology of Pott's disease, Sayre, L. H., 35.
Practice of Medicine. The coming physician, Crosby, G. A., 15; theory and practice of medicine, Brown, J. F., 16; regulation of the practice of medicine, Bidwell, W. D., 558.
Pregnancy, affections connected with. Report on obstetrics,

Blaisdell, F., 15; Green, C. M., 26; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy, Kemp, E. A., 28; extra-uterine fœtation, with illustrative case, Lusk, W. T., 34; an unusual case of extra-uterine pregnancy, Blackwood, 46; salt infusion in the treatment of hæmorrhage, Harrington, F. B., 61; congenital anidrosis, Stedman, C. E., 61; the future influence of surgery and surgical resources upon obstetrics, Lee, C. C., 62; the management of cases of rigidity of the os uteri in labor, Boardman, W. E., 149; a case of extra-uterine fœtation, Chadwick, J. R., 159; a case of retinitis albuminurica: induced premature labor, Risley, S. D., 187; obstetric gleanings or expedients and mistakes, Driver, S. W., 208; the actual as compared with the supposed structure of the placenta, Minot, C. S., 209; a method of treating placenta prævia, some points of which are not to be found in the standard works of midwifery, Bishop, P. E., 225; extensive phlebitis and pelvic abscess following abortion, Minot, F., 279, 282; possible embolism after labor, with recovery, Buckingham, E. M., 282; ergot after labor, Goodman, J., 330; a case of puerperal eclampsia, Palmer, S. E., 349; a case of puerperal diphtheria, Forster, E. J., 321; the blue discoloration of the vaginal entrance as a diagnostic sign of pregnancy, Chadwick, J. R., 355; the high mortality of the recent cæsarean operation in the United States, with the report of a case, Parrish, W. H., 356; placenta prævia partialis, Bidwell, W. D., 376; two cases of obstetric interest, Hosmer, A., 402, 404; induced labor at the eighth month on account of pelvic deformity, Nichols, J. T. G., 548; two cases of labor complicated with fibroid tumors, with remarks, Boardman, W. E., 591, 594.

Prince, M. Tenderness of the spine in health and disease and the therapeutic effects of blistering over the fourth and fifth vertebræ, 347; on the exact measurement of the electric current and other practical points in the destruction of hair by electrolysis with special reference to the use of the absolute galvanometer, 420.

Prizes. The Ernest Krackonizer prize, 502.

Prout, J. S. Badal's operation: laceration of the infra-trochlear nerve for the relief of glaucoma, with cases, 185: new formation in the vitreous of both eyes, 186.

Putnam, J. J. Notes on syphilis of the nervous system, 317, 328, 341.

Rags. Order to customs officers in regard to importation of old rags, 119; the State Board of Health to investigate rags as contagion carriers, 214.

Railway Spine, 286.

Randall, B. A. Two cases of severe traumatism of the eye with partial dislocation of the crystalline lens, 185.

Reamy, T. A. Address before American Gynæcological Association, 331.

Read, I. B. Rupture of an aneurism of the thoracic aorta, 552.

Recent Progress. Otology, Green, J. Orne, 9; obstetrics, Green, C. M., 26; gynæcology, Davenport, F. H., 59; medical chemistry, Hills, W. B., 81; ophthalmology, Wadsworth, O. F. and Standish, M., 106; thoracic disease, 155; surgery, Burrell, H. L. and Cushing, H. W., 177, 227; anatomy, Dwight, T., 205; nervous system, Knapp, P. C., 253; therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 276, 296; genito-urinary surgery, Post, A., 324; orthopædic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Lovell, R. W., 373, 398; dermatology, Tilden, G. H., 400; bacteriology, Ernst, H. C., 424; pathology and pathological anatomy, Whitney, W. F., 448, 498; children, Rotch, T. M., 471; report on progress in ophthalmology, Wadsworth, O. F. and Standish, M., 520; report of progress relating to food and drugs, Davenport, B. F., 546.

Reeve, J. C. A case of abdominal section for chronic suppurative peritonitis, 329.

Registration. Forty-fourth Massachusetts registration report, 382.

Respiratory System. Notes on some cases of diaphragmatic pleurisy, Bruen, E. T., 1; spasm of the glottis in rickets, Whittaker, J. T., 11; an improved method of measuring the chest, Wilkins, 17; report on progress in thoracic disease, Shattuck, F. C., 155; salicylate of cocaine in asthma, Mosler, 193; whooping-cough at the age of fifty-one: treatment by cresolene, Ayer, J. B., 377; a case of pneumothorax, Adams, J. F. A., 397; resection of lung and removal of a kidney, Demons, 413; follicular tonsillitis, Langmaid, S. W., 455; pulmonary emphysema, Delafield, F., 474; phthisis: tubercular synovitis and caries of the wrist: excision with recovery from local condition, Cushing, H. W., 598; phthisical lung, injected with carbolized iodine, White, J. B., 598; laryngeal diphtheria: intubation and pathological anatomy, Northrup, W. P., 598.

Richardson, M. H. Operations on nerves, 368, 377; spermatorrhœa, 525; a case of gastrotomy: digital exploration of œsophagus and removal of plate of teeth: recovery, 567, 579.

Rickets. Spasm of the glottis in rickets, Whittaker, J. T., 11.

Risley, S. D. A case of retinitis albuminurica: induced premature labor, 187.

Robinson, A. R. Chondroma of the upper lip, 261.

Rotch, T. M. Report on diseases of children, 471.

Rome. On the hygienic laws and sanitary conditions of ancient Rome, Lanciani, R., 537, 565.

Saccharine. Fahlberg's saccharine, Leale, C. A., 553.

Sachs. Intracerebral hæmorrhage in the young, 188.

Salt Solution. Subcutaneous injection of salt solution, Tuttle, W. H., 362; salt infusion in the treatment of hæmorrhage, Harrington, F. B., 61.

Sandal-wood oil as an anti-blenorrhagic, 482.

Sargent, D. A. The effects of military drill on boys, 245, 258.

Sawyer, J. The character of inorganic cardiac murmurs, 22.

Sayre, L. H. A contribution to the etiology of Pott's disease, 35.

Scabies. Clinical notes on scabies, Greenough, F. B. 269.

Scarlatina. Scarlatina and milk, 115; scarlatina sine exanthema, 414.

School Hygiene. Currier, D. M., 15.

Scientific Men and their duties, Billings, J. S., 561, 585.

Sedgwick, W. F. The purification of drinking-water by filtration, 470, 476.

Seguin, E. C. A clinical report of nine cases of hemianopsia, 32.

Serpent-man, 412.

Sewage farming in England, Carpenter, A., 21.

Sexton, S. Acute and chronic purulent inflammation of the middle ear tract and their complications, 85; a new operation for the radical cure of chronic purulent inflammation of the middle ear tract, 85.

Shattuck, F. C. Report on progress in thoracic disease, 155; a case of malignant endocarditis, 574, 577.

Shattuck, G. B. Report on water-supply, 181.

Sherwell, S. Remarks and queries on and as to the relative frequency of moles and their pathological changes on the head and face, 284.

Sherwin, O. W. Reduction of copper in Fehling's solution with chloral hydrate, 487.

Silbermann. The cause of circular gastric ulcer, 534.

Simmons, G. C. A hint to oculists from the almond-eyed Asiatic, 338.

Simpson, J. Y. The functions of the thyroid gland, 618.

Sinkler. The treatment of facial spasm, 188.

Snake-poison. Researches on snake poison, 554.

Snell, S. The offspring of the blind, 218.

Societies. American Academy of Medicine, 432; American Dermatological Association, 234, 259, 283; American Gynæcological Society, 305, 329, 351; American Neurological Association, 140, 162, 187, 210; American Ophthalmological Society, 89, 112, 137, 161, 184; American Otological Society, 85; American Public Health Association, 362; Association of American Physicians, 11, 31; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 109, 328, 377, 452, 525, 623; Boston Society for Medical Observation, 207, 351, 454; British Medical Association, 239; Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons, 313; Essex North District Medical Society, 404; Greece Royal Medical Society, 336; International Medical Congress, 119; Massachusetts Medical Society, 29, 476; Massachusetts Medical Benevolent Society, 456; Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society, 426; New Hampshire Medical Society, 14; New York Academy of Medicine, 62, 378, 405, 474, 502, 598; New York County Medical Association, 34, 230, 429, 549; New York State Medical Association, Fifth District Branch, 426, 527; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 60, 282, 404, 547; Philadelphia Pathological Society, 302; Rhode Island Medical Society, 622; Suffolk District Medical Society, 84, 159, 180, 208, 258, 479, 501, 577, 579, 594, 596.

Somerville poisoning sensation, 192.

Sommer. A contra-indication of paraldehyde, 241.

Souther, W. P. The reuniting of severed digits, 339.

Spear, E. D. A new ear-speculum, 594.

Spermatorrhœa, Richardson, M. H., 525.

Spinal Irritation, its symptoms, pathology and treatment, Corning, J. L., 541.

Spitzka, E. C. The attitude of legal medicine versus hydrophobia, 36.

Sponges. New aseptic sponges, Elliot, J. W., 502.

Stabler, A. A new portable battery and some details of its application, 404.

Stedman, C. E. Congenital anidrosis, 61.

Stelwagon, H. W. Clinical observations regarding the value of resorcin, icthyol, and lanolin in cutaneous diseases, 260.

Sternberg, G. M. The bacillus of typhoid fever, 32.

Strawbridge, G. Two hundred and sixty-three cases of cataract extraction with particular reference to the after-treatment, 114.

Suicide. The medico-legal aspects of suicide in life insurance, Clark, J. A., 337.

Surgery. Report on surgery, Hammond, C. B., 16; recent progress in surgery, Burrell, H. W., and Cushing, H. W., 177, 227; backward dislocation of the fingers upon the metacarpus, Otis, E. O., 202, 207; on rupture of the tendon of the long head of the biceps brachii muscle, Monks, G. H., 496, 501; notes on the treatment of stone in the bladder, Cabot, A. T., 518, 526; brain surgery again, 530; exostosis of facial bones, Cheever, D. W., 596.

Sutton, B. S. Another modification of Emmet's cervix operation, with a case in point, 307.

Sutton, R. S. Supra-vaginal hysterectomy, 355.

Syphilis. Syphilis in Corea, 169; some phases of cerebral syphilis, Althaus, J., 378; Syphilis of the nervous system, Putnam, J. J., 317, 328, 341; are all venereal patients liars? 531.

Taylor, R. W. Precocious gummata, 238.

Taylor, W. H. Notes on the Lawton murder, 318.

Tea. The use and abuse of tea, 194.

Temperance. Medical view of the temperance question, 333.

Testicle. Reflex nervous phenomena from injuries to the testicle, Lumeau, 290.

Tetany, Lyman, H. M., 12; tetany and tetanilla, Althaus, J., 389, 417.

Theobald, S. The amblyopia of squinting eyes: is it a determining cause or a consequent of the squint? 184.

Thorn, W. A., Jr. Medico-legal case: Albino birth: is it white or black? 94.

Thomas, T. G. Laparotomy as a diagnostic resource, 549.

Thomsen's Disease, 457.

Thompson, W. G. The movements of the heart and intestines illustrated by photography, 502.

Thornton, W. P. Perityphlitic abscess discharging spontaneously at the umbilicus, 485.

Thyroid Gland. Functions of the thyroid gland, 192; tuberculosis of the thyroid gland, 383; the functions of the thyroid gland, Simpson, J. Y., 618.

Tilden, G. H. Trophoneurosis of the skin caused by injury of the median nerve, 260; a case of probable tuberculosis of the skin, 285; report on the progress of dermatology, 400.

Tonsillitis. Follicular tonsillitis, Langmaid, S. W., 455.

Tracheotomy. Cases of tracheotomy in diphtheritic croup, Tupper, A. M., 53; the delayed removal of tracheotomy tubes with cases, Lovett, R. W., 56.

Tremaine, W. Discussion on shot wounds of the intestines, 527.

Tuberculosis. Some affections of the nervous system associated with tuberculosis, Weber, L. G., 166.

Tumor. Fibroid tumor, Cushing, E. W., 209; three cases of suppurating ovarian tumor treated by drainage, Elliot, J. W., 441; tumor of the breast, Beach, H. H. A., 452; two cases of labor complicated with fibroid tumors, with remarks, Boardman, W. E., 591, 594; ovarian tumors, Cushing, E. W., 595.

Tupper, A. M. Cases of tracheotomy in diphtheritic croup, 53.

Tuttle, A. H. Subcutaneous injection of salt solution, 362.

Typhoid Fever. Incubation of typhoid fever, 145; typhoid fever, Adams, I. H., 17; the bacillus of typhoid fever, Sternberg, G. M., 32; the treatment of typhoid fever in the New York Hospitals, 510; perforation of the intestine in a case of typhoid fever, Janeway, E. G., 552.
Tyson, J. Renal calculus, its diagnosis and treatment, 365.
Urethra. The male urethra, Newell, O. K., 443, 480.
Urinary System. An experimental study of glomerulo-nephritis, Welch, W. H., 31; cyanotic induration of the kidneys, Formad, H., 33; albuminuric retinitis, Blake, J. G., 49, 60; glycogenesis and glycosuria, 66; urinary incontinence of children treated by anodynes per rectum, Williams, E. T., 257; report on genito-urinary surgery, Post, A., 324; renal calculus: its diagnosis and treatment, Tyson, J., 365; resection of lung and removal of a kidney, Demons, 413; the male urethra, Newell, O. K., 443, 480; a case of supra-pubic lithotomy, Gavin, M. F., 447, 454; stone in the bladder: lithotomy, Beach, H. H. A., 452; stone in a female bladder, Elliot, J. W., 452; case of internal urethrotomy, Watson, F. S., 454; case of supra-pubic lithotomy, Cabot, A. T., 455; sandal-wood oil as an anti-blenorrhagic, 482; bladder evacuator, Otis, F. N., 501; an anodyne for use in vesical irritation, Copeland, W. P., 509; on diet in albuminuria, Dujardin-Beaumetz, 513; notes on the treatment of stone in the bladder, Cabot, A. T., 518, 526, 544; spontaneous fracture of stone in the bladder, Watson, F. S., 524, 525; a case of chronic interstitial nephritis, Ayer, J. B., 525; calculi: their alleged "spontaneous" fracture, 558; a reducing substance in urine resembling glucose, Brune, T. B., 621.
Vaccination complicated by a trivial wound, Ayer, J. B., 623,
Van Fleet, F. Abscess of brain from suppurative otitis, 431.
Vaughan, V. C. Poisoning by ice cream, 218.
Vital statistics of graduates of Harvard, 484.
Wadsworth, O. F. and Standish, M. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 106; report on progress in ophthalmology, 520.
Wallace, T. C. Are all venereal patients liars? 583.
Water. Report on water-supply, Shattuck, G. B., 181; conditions affecting the growth of microbes in potable water, 337; the purification of drinking water by filtration, Sedgwick, W. F., 470, 476.
Watson, F. S. Case of internal urethrotomy, 454; spontaneous fracture of stone in the bladder, 524, 525.
Webber, S. G. Overdose of hydrobromate of hyoscin, 207; concerning some hypnotics, 350.
Weber, L. G. Some affections of the nervous system associated with tuberculosis, 166.
Webster, D. Report of fifty cases of cataract extraction, 137.
Welch, W. H. An experimental study of glomerulo-nephritis, 31.
Wells, D. On the occupations of women and over-pressure, 437.
White, J. B. Phthisical lung, injected with carbolized iodine, 598.
White, J. C. Native plants injurious to the skin, 261.
White, W. R. A case of intestinal obstruction in an infant caused by the ingestion of wool, 622.
Whitney, W. F. Recent progress in pathology and pathological anatomy, 448, 498.
Whittaker, J. T. Spasm of the glottis in rickets, 11.
Whooping-cough at the age of fifty-one: treatment by cresolene, Ayer, J. B., 377.
Wigglesworth, E. Annual address before the American Dermatological Association, 234.
Wilder, B. G. The accurate collocation of a suture and fissure in the human fœtus, 140; notes on the brain, 165; exhibition of the medisected alinjected head of a murderer, 210.
Wilkins. An improved method of measuring the chest, 17.
Williams, E. T. Urinary incontinence of children treated by anodynes per rectum, 257; how to abort a felon, 41; milky tumors of the axilla, 583.
Williams, F. H. Report on therapeutics, 276, 296.
Wilson, E. Notes on the treatment of recent laceration of the cervix uteri, 307.
Wilson, H. P. C. The division of the cervix backwards in some forms of ante-flexion of the uterus with dysmenorrhœa and sterility, 305.
Wines, F. H. Statistics on the public wards of the United States, 194.
Woerishoffer, Mrs. The gift of Mrs. Woerishoffer to the New York Academy of Medicine, 437.
Wolcott, G. A case of "ulcerative endocarditis," 25, 30.
Wolpert's air-tester, 131.
Wylie, W. G. Two operations for intestinal obstruction, 503.
Zenner. Auctioneer's cramp, 189.